The meeting began at 5:00.

Members present: Stauna Mandic, Kerensa Funk, Henry Lemieux, Sheri Olsen, Noelle Clark, Brendan Hunscher, Russ Warchola, Kathryn Sorum, Brenda Hatcher

COMMUNITY SERVICE OPPORTUNITIES

Kathryn read the list of volunteers for the Habitat for Humanity project on September 27th from 8:30-3:00. Seven graduate students have volunteered so far. We will work on finding three more volunteers. Thanks, Kathryn, for all your work on this project!

Russ introduced the idea of volunteering for the Venture Theater as a second community service project. The owners are building a new theatre on a limited budget. Let us know if working inside to help these folks one day in October is something you would be able to do. Remember - no matter where you go to work, they love to see community involvement on your resume! Great idea, Russ.

FACULTY INVOLVEMENT OPPORTUNITIES

There are still a few graduate assistantships to be filled. Anyone who is interested should contact the Graduate Office.

Noelle (Welcome Noelle!) asked for input as to when we all thought the most opportune time would be for the Student Activities Expo. A possibility suggested was to schedule the Expo a few weeks further into the semester after students have settled into their schedules. Thanks, Noelle, for taking our thoughts into account.

DINNER AND A MOVIE

Pizza was our dinner this week. Next week: Stauna surprise. Noelle won the free movie rental coupon from Blockbuster. This is the second week in a row that a new member won the movie!

The Volunteer Recruitment Fair is next Tuesday, September 1, from 10:00 AM to 2:00 PM in the Sub Atrium and Galleria.

Noelle discussed a meeting she had with Curt Kochner, the Interim Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs, concerning ways in which on-line students could take part in campus events, which they pay for in their fees but are unable to attend.

We finished our revisions on the GSA Constitution. We spent three weeks with the guiding thought that we wanted to make the association even better for the coming years. The preparation, energy, thoughtful contributions, and participation of the members made the task a dynamic group process experience. Next week, after the revisions are typed, we will review them and then submit them for the necessary vote.

The meeting ended at 6:00 PM.
